John Ferry

Hello, my name is John Ferry. I am fifty years old and a resident of Arizona since 1992. I was born and raised in a small town in Northwestern Pennsylvania sixty miles North of Pittsburgh. I have always wanted to fly since I can remember.

I received my Bachelor's degree in Mathematics in 1982, and began my flight training two weeks after getting my first job. After taking some time off to save some much needed money, I resumed my training and received my license in 1984. I subsequently moved to the Philadelphia area where I received my IFR training and certification. At that time, I bought my first airplane a Cessna 150. I subsequently sold and purchased a Cherokee 180 and moved to Arizona. I am now the co-owner of a Bonanza F33 based here at Deer Valley.

I currently work in the medical field as a practice administrator for a urology group based in Phoenix and Scottsdale. I enjoy computers and computer programming and returned to school in 2008 working towards my Master's degree in Accountancy. I complete my coursework this February and plan to sit for the CPA exams in 2010. My future plans include pursuing either an Executive Law degree or possibly a PhD in Business Administration.

Aviation:

Like many other stories you hear, I fell in love with aviation at an early age. I grew up in a small town in Pennsylvania, which did not offer many opportunities in the way of aviation. In 1978, I joined the US. Navy, mainly because of an S-3 crew I had met at an air show. I knew I could get my chance to fly even if it was only as an air crewmen. I did get that chance in H-53 helicopters. I took my first flying lesson at 19 and soon soloed and just as quickly ran out of money. It was nearly 20 years of trying to fit flying back into my life before I began flying sailplanes in 1999. I earned my sailplane certificate 90 days after my first lesson. While flying sailplanes is both rewarding and challenging I began to once again lean back towards the powered flight side. Soon I was back in the left seat with my focus on finishing my private pilot's license. My dream of being a powered pilot was finally realized in September of 2005 and soon was in the market for an airplane. As luck would have it, the plane that I did some training in became available. I am now the proud owner of a 1985 Maule MX7 235.

Business:

My business career started with a paint and body repair shop at the tender age of 21. I soon grew tired of the constant fumes and the working conditions. Not wanting to give up, I kept the business going long enough to get out of debt. I then closed the business, vowing never to paint another car. The one positive side of the painting business was that I discovered computers. Realizing early that I had a talent for computers, I started taking classes and soon began pursuing a computer science degree. After a few years, I felt that I was spinning my wheels in school learning outdated technology, so I struck out on my own. That was 15 years ago when I started my computer business and have not looked back.

Personal:

I have been married for nearly 20 years to my wife 'Diane' who also enjoys flying and often accompanies me transporting blood for Flights for Life. I have been a member of Flights for Life for nearly 4 years and currently serve as a board member. I also had the opportunity to develop a new scheduling system for FFL, which is now on-line and in real time. This has been a very rewarding experience for me and has put me in contact with many wonderful people at FFL. I joined Toastmasters International in 2002 and was active in the club holding several positions including 2 terms as president and achieved the level of Distinguished Toastmaster. I also belong to another pilot organization called Pilots and Paws. This organization flies animals from high kill areas to other locations where they have a better chance at adoption. Pilots and Paws are not currently active on the west coast, but I would like to try to get more attention in Arizona.

Bill Woods

I've been an Arizona resident since 1973. I earned my pilot's license in 1984 at the old Glendale airport where one had to watch for trucks traveling on Grand Ave. while on short final in order to land.

In 1986 I decided I wanted to be in an equity position in an airplane and I purchased a quarter partnership of a Cherokee 180 that was based at Deer Valley in a covered tie-down. While in the Cherokee partnership my wife and I enjoyed a lot of $100 hamburgers around Arizona and I remained in the partnership for 12 years.

In the late 90s my wife and I attended several fly-outs with friends who were Bonanza owners. After consistently being the last ones to arrive for our hundred dollar hamburgers we decided to upgrade to a Bonanza and in 1999 we purchased an "N" model Bonanza which we still own and have hangared on the north side.

Flying and aviation related activities are my passion and I spend a great deal of my spare time in my hangar maintaining the Bonanza. It's the great stress reliever in my life and my family and I fly 50 to 100 hours each year. In my real life I am a residential mortgage broker, a career I entered in 1979.

I am extremely proud to be based at Deer Valley, one of America's premier general aviation airports, and I feel a debt of gratitude to this facility. I would appreciate the opportunity participate in some small way in the overall operation and management of the facility by serving on and being a member of the Deer Valley Pilot's Association Board of Directors in 2010.
